If coming from North via Cookstown

When you leave Cookstown on the road to Omagh you will come to the roundabout where you are facing the Glenavon hotel. Set your odometer at zero there or start counting 12.3miles. This will take you to the left turn and sign for Carrickmore (Creggan Road). There is a star garage on the right at this junction. Take this left and you will come to a mini roundabout in Carrickmore. Go straight through it. You will come to a T-junction on a sweeping bend: turn left. This will take you down by Dean Maguire College on left. Next you will come to a sign on right for 'Sixmilecross/B46/Ballygawley'. Turn right here. This road will take you right into Sixmilecross. Drive along main street until you come near the end of it and you see the right turn onto Meeting House Road (past Chemist on right). The church is a short distance up this road on the right. Park up in the small church car park at the church. (These directions avoid the route through Pomeroy which starts off great but becomes very slow and bendy).

If coming out M1 from Belfast

- On reaching Ballygawley, follow signs for Omagh A5.
- About nine miles along Ballygawley-Omagh road, you will see a sign to turn right for Beragh/Sixmilecross. Take this road (Moyleagh Road) and travel until you arrive in Beragh.

- You will pass the Free Presbyterian church on your left and parish church on your right. Take the first road on your left which is shortly after these (Meetinghouse road). The church is a little way up this road on your right. Park in the car park right outside the church.
