- Devotion 24th May 2020 Thessalonians 5.docx (28 KB)

Dear Friends

I trust that you are all continuing to manage with the present challenging circumstances. It has now been 10 weeks since we have had a regular worship in the 'Meeting House'.

I trust, each of the worship times, broadcast on YouTube have been of encouragement to you, you all have been a great encouragement to me in the preparation of them as I hear of some of the blessing you receive while keeping in touch in this way. Like you, I also miss coming together to worship our almighty God in His House, I trust that in the coming weeks, maybe months, as restriction are lifted gradually we will be able to worship in public again in some form, it will probably be very different form what we have been doing in the past.

In the meantime, may I encourage you with this weeks message based on 1 Thessalonians 5:1-11 'The Day of the Lord'. This can be found by following the link from Aughnacloy and Ballymagrane face book page or directly on Aughnacloy and Ballymagrane You Tube channel. While you are on You Tube there are many other worship service broadcast too, may I also direct to the Moderator each Sunday on the Maze Presbyterian Channel too.

Announcements:

Keep This in Mind Please

In light of the present Coronavirus pandemic it is uncertain when our congregations will be able to meet again, it may not be before the end of June. This is will impact upon our congregations regular income. With this in mind can we encourage you, if you are able to continue with your regular giving, this can be done through a bank standing order or making direct electronic bank transfers. Bank details for your congregation can be forwarded on request, either through your congregational treasurer or myself, to individuals. If this is not possible we request that you continue to fill up your church envelopes on a regular basis and put them on the offering plate when the current restrictions are lifted.

Keep Safe and God Bless you all
